Product Description

PVC WPC hollow door panel production line

Product description

The wood-plastic door is made of ultra-fine wood powder mixed with PVC resin and manufactured by plasticizing process. It has the excellent characteristics of wood and plastic, and the door produced has the effect of real wood imitation. Because the raw materials used and the production process are not glued with glue, no harmful substances such as formaldehyde, benzene, ammonia and trichloroethylene are produced, which is a new environmentally friendly material that replaces traditional wood.
